

MAHHA

Mid Atlantic Hammock Hangers Association

Spring Event at Pine Grove Furnace State Park, PA

Located near the midpoint of the Appalachian Trail in southern Cumberland County, Pennsylvania. Home of the Appalachian Trail Museum.

April 30th, 2011 | 10am -4pm | Furnace Stack area

FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

The MAHHA group will be displaying all the necessary gear to make hammock style camping comfortable and preferable. Come in the morning and stay all day.

Exhibits will include several styles of backpacking hammocks from Hennessy, Jacks R'Better, Tree to Tree Trail Gear, Clark, Warbonnet, and others, as well as many "Do It Yourself" versions. Enter a hammock setup contest and win a DIY hammock!

See and learn all about hammock insulation systems such as CCF pads, down underquilts and topquilts, Insultex, and more.

Visit the displays, talk to the "hangers," and examine everything regarding hammock hanging. See creative specialized gear developed just for hanging.

Check out the tarps used for hanging in all seasons of the year. See the creative modifications developed to make hammock hanging the ultimate in comfort and protection from the elements.

Displayed will also be home-made camping items like wood stoves, alcohol burners, hammock stands, Caldera Cones, and a special demonstration of "Flint Knapping".

Join the interactive fun as some of the MAHHA group demonstrate "Freezer Bag Cooking" (FBC).

Scheduled throughout the day are several discussion groups on the "Advantages of hammock hanging", "Ways to lighten the weight of your pack", and "Hammock hanging with Disabilities".

The MAHHA group welcomes all to this event. So come, bring a friend, and "hang" around a while!

*Come and join in the fun.
Once you have spent time in a hammock
you may never go back to tent camping.*
